WITH PLAY AND PLAYER

'WALLS OF JERICO'
RIVALS CRUSADE
BY DR. TANNERSociety Drama With Ibsen Tang
Given by Good Company at Macdonough.

During a brief stay here "The Walls of Jericho" ought to attract some larger houses than it did at its opening yesterday afternoon at the Macdonough. The actor for both play and players are good. The play has an Ibsen tang with out the usual tragic termination. The lines are good and the scenes where deep emotions are displayed are nicely interrupted with lighter bits.

Herbert Kelley and Edie Shannon playing the leading roles very evenly shared the honors of the initial production here although they did not take them all for their support in the main was first class.

"The Walls of Jericho" is a society play depicting the weakening of a strong man through association with the members of an evil and idle smart set. The strong man, John Macdonough, made his fortune in Australia, where he was known as Fighting Jack, but when he returned to England and was married for his money by the Marquis of Stanton's daughter, Lady Althea, she took the fight out of him by dragging him out to teas and bridge parties. She neglected home husband and baby for gambling, gossiping women and evil men until Frohisher declared a domestic war the tactics of which local husbands in similar positions could study with profit.

Rival to Dr. Tanner.

The whole play is a sort of Rev. Dr. Tanner set upon the evils of bridge club life and "fashionable idleness." It is indeed quite a rival to the Dr. Tanner crusade.

Miss Shannon as Lady Althea and Kelley as Frohisher had good support in Winona Shannon as Lady Lucy Althea's sister, Charles Rowan as the marquis and Vida Rolfe as Mrs. Macdonough. The voice of bridge, Frank Kingston, who played the part of a rich and ready friend of Frohisher was also good, while the rest of the support was fair.

The play is fairly good and the average Rev. Dr. Tannerer would find it a problem play that gives ground for meditation. Aired Suto is the author.

done by these articles as they whirl through the air.

Miss Shone as Venus.

Some wonderfully beautiful effects were shown by Herminie Shone in her dramatic fantasy which she calls "In Dreamland." This production is more extensive in its electrical effects and illusions than many dramatic offerings. Eight people are included in the company and several electric effects are required to provide the effects. Deity has introduced Venus in this role looking every inch a goddess. Althea Norton, a young German chemist with her mechanical and chemical apparatus made rubies and sapphires which were distributed throughout the audience later and were eagerly sought by the curious spectators. The gems resemble the real ones in every particular and are said to have an actual value as precious stones. The secret of their manufacture is Miss Norton's and is likely to remain so as it nets her a fortune through the exhibitions she gives in vaudeville.

Some lively comedy and music was the offering of Foster and Foster in "The Voluntary Pianist." There has not been a more entertaining skit on the Orpheum stage for a long time than that which these two men provide.

Trained Dogs.

A new trained animal act where big Newfoundland and Tiger dogs figured as performers closed the show, under the direction of W. Immane a clever European trainer whose dogs are handsome specimens and of extraordinary intelligence.

The program had the Three Keatons as its first number and they proved to be very acceptable eccentric comedians. The little chap Buster being especially amusing.

Dumoris Minstrels from Paris gave their unique street singing act playing on violin mandolin and guitar while they strolled about the stage as troubadours in Paris.

Sanka Panna the Hungarian cymbal virtuoso was held over from last week's bill.

The motion pictures were unusually striking and formed not the least desirable part of the vaudeville program.

BAN ON ABBE LOISY
FOR MODERNISTIC
PUBLICATIONSWorks of French Priest Whom Father Tyrrell Defends Condemned by Archbishop of Paris.

PARIS Feb 17.—The Archbishop of Paris has issued a decree condemning the last two works of Abbe Loisy's "Synoptic Gospels" and his reply to the Papal encyclical against modernism in the faith. The decree forbids the clergy and laity under penalty of special Papal excommunication from reading, keeping, printing or defending such books.

In an interview Abbe Loisy declared that he would continue the work. He had no intention he said to create a revolution in the church but merely wished to instruct the clergy whose education was that of the seventeenth century.

The faith of Plus X and of Abbe Loisy is one and the same, declares Father Tyrrell the English priest who is under papal censure for his modernistic opinions and who defends his position in a long article in Hubert Journal London.

The difference he says is in their understanding of its embodiment—intellectual practical institutional. "Modernists" he says agree as to their points of departure as to the general method and way but their goal is below the horizon their rate of advance unequal their courses by no means parallel. He adds:

Hence not one of them will subscribe to all the positions of his fellow Modernists still less will he accept the compact system fathered on him by the Encyclical.

Repudiated Scholasticism

Not one of them would die for the Modernist interpretation of Catholicism which it condemns. But all of them repudiate the scholastic antithetical interpretation which it implies and imposes.

Here is their unity—a unity of negation. And so far as this negation proceeds all branches of the scholastic system of Catholicism, it is possible to attribute to Modernism a positive and systematic unity which is simply that of the shadow or negation of scholasticism.

Modernism is a movement a process a tendency and not like scholasticism a system—the term or arrest of a movement. It is a movement away from the scholastic position in a variety of directions. But whereas in former years such movements have been in quest of some new position to be accepted as final and permanent Modernism recognizes movement as itself a permanent condition and seeks only to discover its laws and determine its direction.

To Reconcile Essentials.

Growth is its governing category. In other words it is an attempt to reconcile the essentials of Catholic faith with those indispensable results of historical criticism which are manifestly disastrous to the medieval synthesis of scholasticism. It does not demand a new theology, or no theology at all but a moving growing theology—a theology carefully distinguished from the religious experience of which it is the ever imperfect but perfectible expression. It does not demand a new institutional framework of Catholicism or no framework at all but a recognition that the framework has grown in the past and should be suffered to grow in the future under the guidance of the same Life and Spirit.

SORRY HE COULD
NOT KILL THUGWounded Policeman is Doing
Nicely—Praised for Presence of Mind.(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE)
SAN FRANCISCO Feb 17.—Policeman Edward Mills who was shot and dangerously wounded by James Johnson a thug whom he was attempting to capture at 11 o'clock last night is much better this morning.

Police Surgeon Clinton who called to visit him at the central emergency hospital at 730 a m found his condition greatly improved and now the only danger to be feared is that blood poisoning may set in. It is thought however that the injured policeman will be able to be removed to the St. Luke's Hospital this afternoon and it is highly probable that he will ultimately recover.

Although suffering severe pain Mills bears up well and the only thing that prevented his getting a few hours rest last night was remorse that the thug had gotten away from him.

When seen at the hospital this morning Mills said:

I advanced upon the robber and was about to handcuff him when he shot at me through his pocket. I of course fell but in a minute I had drawn my own weapon and could have shot him dead on the spot had I not been afraid by chance of hitting some of the numerous bystanders who had crowded around. I saw that if he ducked the shot would hit someone in back of him and it was not until he turned and ran that I had a clear field. Then the range was too far and of course I missed.

Wanted to Kill Him.

I am glad he was captured but it was too bad that I didn't have a chance to get even. That's the only thing that's been worrying me all night. I wish I could have sent him to the morgue.

Mills' forethought and presence of mind in not shooting for fear of injuring some innocent citizen is characteristic of him and bears out his reputation in the department of being fearless of danger and of thinking of himself last.

James Johnson the man under arrest, has been positively identified by F. B. Thompson the bartender whom he held up at Jones and O'Farrell streets and his name placed upon the detinue book at the city prison.

ROBBED GIRLS' ROOM
OF VALUABLE JEWELS

(Special to The Tribune)
SAN FRANCISCO Feb 17.—The hotel thief who has been systematically going through apartment houses in the burned district of late yesterday broke into the room of Miss Ethel Day at the Interoceanic Hotel and got away with money and jewelry to the value of $272.

The burglary was reported to Officer Behan at midnight when Miss Day who had spent yesterday afternoon in the buy returned to find her room in confusion and her valuables gone.

Nothing that at the present time are at a deadlock between the two elements of the Catholic Church. Dr. Tyrrell asks what the prospects of Modernism may be. His own answer seems to show that as now constituted the two parties present differences wholly irreconcilable.

TURKISH RESERVES
ORDERED TO FRONTRevolutionary League is Working Hard to Increase the Agitation

TIFLIS Feb 17.—Reports have been received here from Armenia that all the regular or Turkish army reserve forces in Van Mush and other villages of Asia Minor have been called to the colors and are departing rapidly for the frontier. At the same time a league of the Turkish revolutionary party is increasing the revolutionary agitation. Appeals and proclamations are being issued exhorting the population to protest in every way possible against the warlike plans of the Sultan. The league holds that war would be especially disastrous at this time as there is a famine in Asia Minor.

At Tiflis the apprehension of hostilities has not abated. The Russian military authorities have ordered that all horses in the Caucasus with names for military purposes be registered. The doctors of Tiflis held a meeting recent and volunteered their services in case of war.

The concentration of Turkish reserves on the Russian and Russian frontier in Asia Minor if in progress is an outcome of the border difficulty with Persia. Recently Turkish troops crossed the Persian frontier in the vicinity of Urumli and committed depredations. To this Russia under her treaty obligations to Persia objected and began the concentration of a strong force on the frontier. The Russian government has thought to have been sufficient to put a stop to the Turkish aggression and the Russian movement was said to have been discontinued.

If the representations from Armenia of the difficulties in Asia Minor which is closely connected with the rail road aspirations of the powers in the Balkans may assume serious import.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Formula for a Complexion Restorer and Skin Food Popular Among Parisian Ladies

The women of Paris are world famous for their beauty. For classical features they cannot compare with the English or American women but as is well known features count for little if not accompanied by a good complexion and this is where the French women excel. Their rose tinted skin is the envy of society ladies of all nations.

A prominent New York lady recently returned from a sojourn in Paris brought back with her the formula for a toilet preparation which although very simple is in general use in all the cities of France by the ladies for the preservation of their highly prized complexions. The formula is as follows:

Two ounces Rose Water one ounce Cologne Spirit four ounces crystallized Sartin (skin food). Put the Sartin into a pint of hot water (not boiling) and when dissolved and cooled add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit and strain through a fine cloth. Any large bottle or a fruit jar will serve as a receptacle providing it can be closed airtight. These ingredients are obtainable from any well stocked druggist and very easily mixed.

It should be used every day and massaged well into the skin. The results are said to be truly remarkable and commendable but the first few applications but the treatment should be continued until the rosy glow to the complexion is permanent.

Records were broken at the Oakland Orpheum when the new bill for the week went on yesterday. Fully 2000 people found themselves unable to gain admission and the crowds who made their way inside congratulated themselves upon their good fortune for the program was easily the best that has been staged at the Oakland Orpheum since its opening four months ago.

The bill is fairly good and with bright sparkling vaudeville acts every one of them a gem. The management hints that the program is a mighty expensive affair and after seeking the show one is really able to believe the suggestion that money is poured out like water to bring these novelties to the Orpheum.

They are from Europe and the East. But the wonderful juggler is indeed a wonder. He can do things that should really be classed as miracles and do them all so smoothly that they seem almost easy. PITTSBURG, Feb 17.—Hebrews of Greater Pittsburgh are to be aided along the lines followed by the Hebrew Free Loan Association of New York. A mass meeting was held in the Washington street Synagogue yesterday to provide relief for the five hundred Hebrew families of the city in distress.

Rabbi Rudolph Coffe of the Tree of Life congregation personally assumed responsibility of raising a fund of $25,000. Half of this is already pledged.

Instead of making small donations it is planned to make loans of from $100 to $500 without interest. The money paid back on these loans is to go into a permanent relief fund to be invested and held for future emergencies.

HORSES CAN'T GET
A SUNDAY DRINKNot Allowed to Cater to Drivers
Chicago Saloonmen Close
Watering Troughs

CHICAGO Feb 17.—While trying to force the bibulous element of the public to forego beer and drink its straight on Sunday, the Law and Order League has brought about a strange condition of affairs. It has closed the watering troughs to the equine and canine public and if the latter would drink it is forced to drink beer with its master or go dry.

Yesterday the Teamsters Joint Council representing thousands of teamsters of the city sent a communication to the Chicago Federation of Labor asking its cooperation in a request to the Humane Society to have watering troughs placed at convenient points in the city whereby the horses may make their thirst.

If it is a serious condition which confronts us the communication read heretofore plenty of watering troughs have been scattered about the city. But each trough has been located in front of a saloon and the saloonkeeper paid for the water.

Now the water has been turned off from most of the troughs and the reasons given by the saloonkeepers is that the Law and Order League is prosecuting the saloonmen without just cause and they now refuse to contribute to the comfort of the public any more than they can help.

International Marriages and Divorces

The recent divorces of Anna Gould from Count Boni de Castellane and the sister of Harry Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, from the Earl of Yarmouth, and the more recent marriages of Gladys Vanderbilt to a Hungarian count and of Miss Shonts to a French Duke concentrate public attention in an exceptional manner on these international matrimonial alliances and the frequency with which they terminate in the divorce court. It is a notorious fact that a large proportion of these international marriages prove to be misalliances and they have usually been followed by complications of an extraordinary character—some of them, indeed, being internationally embarrassing. The Thaw-Yarmouth marriage, for example, was a misalliance which neither party to it could scarcely hope for it to bring happiness, because it was founded on a strictly commercial basis. The English Earl was interested in the Thaw girl simply because she had "money to burn," and his visit to the United States was one of fortune-hunting. She, on the other hand, coveted the title and her wealthy mother was willing to pay for it. Yarmouth had no trouble in negotiating a marriage settlement which was binding on the Thaws in this country and which insured him, whatever came of the marriage, an income of $40,000 a year for life. The marriage relationship was of short duration. Neither had any affection for the other. Both were evidently glad to get released of the marital by the English divorce courts. But the Earl retained his grip on the $40,000 a year dot, and the Thaw woman was stripped by the decree of the title of Countess, for which she had paid.

Anna Gould's misalliance with Count Boni was much of a kind, only in her case there was issue to the marriage when the dissolution came. Like the Pittsburgh girl in the English courts, the French divorce courts gave Anna Gould a decree, but stripped her of the title of Countess and deprived her of the right of taking her two sons out of the country. As Madam Anna Gould she finds that she has lost all which she coveted and for which she made personal and financial sacrifices.

But the Springfield Republican cites a still more peculiar case, in the marriage and subsequent divorce of an Englishwoman to a Frenchman, which leads that paper to suggest the necessity for the creation of an international divorce court in which jurisdiction of these unhappy international marriages shall be vested in order to get rid of the international complications they create. Briefly stated, this Englishwoman married a Frenchman—a minor without the consent of his parents—which the French courts declared void. He subsequently married another woman, and his divorced wife returned to her own country. There she found herself in the curious position of being free to marry again under French law while still a wife. She therefore applied to the latter courts for a divorce, but was denied it on the ground that they had no jurisdiction, the wife's domicile being that of her husband. She was thus competent to marry in France, but incompetent to marry in England. She thought that she would cut the Gordian knot without the aid of the English courts and married an Englishman in England without enlightening him before marriage of her past relations. After marriage came the discovery and he applied instantly for a divorce and the English court granted it on the ground that the marriage was void because she was the wife of the Frenchman and the wife's domicile was that of her husband. The unfortunate woman is thus put in the position of being barred from marriage in her own country to any one.

Cases of this kind certainly appeal to the common sense of all civilized governments for a mutual understanding where marriages and divorces in one country shall be placed on a common footing in all.

The egg industry in Sonoma county has developed to enormous proportions. According to a Santa Rosa report, the poultry farms in that vicinity alone are producing 1,000,000 dozen eggs annually. The county co-operative association has decided to handle and market the entire output, selling and shipping direct to consumers in case lots from a depot erected at Santa Rosa, returning to the producers the results of the sale, less one per cent. The object of the project is to eliminate the middleman from the industry.

Now that Miss Shonts has been married to her French Duke and secured the title she coveted, it is to be hoped that she will not be compelled later on to shunt him as many other rich American women have had to do who yoked themselves to the titled tuft-hunting adventurers from Europe who have exploited this country to repair their shattered fortunes with the dowry thrown in at the marriage by their upstart millionaire fathers—the shoddy aristocrats of the New World.

Boni seems to have triumphed in his matrimonial troubles after all, and promises to renew his grip on the Gould millions, for Anna Gould finds herself socially ostracized since the divorce, and to restore her position in Parisian upstartdom will, it is reported, reward her disolute and degenerate count. After losing the empty title of Countess she finds it impossible to reconcile herself to be known as plain Mistress Anna Gould.

Evidently bank-wrecker Raglan received part of "what was coming to him" when he was sent to the county jail for nine months by Police Judge Conlan for endeavoring to intimidate a depositor in his bank through the display of a revolver to relinquish his claim to his deposit and also to compensate for $360 worth of work done by him on Raglan's house.

More than half the people in Oakland and neighboring territory are doubtless unaware of the fact that the construction gangs of the Western Pacific have crossed the Fruitvale boundary line and are now grading in the city west of Twenty-third avenue, so quietly and yet vigorously is the company carrying on its operations.

California is anything but gone broke when the report of the State Bank Commissioners shows that the sum of $437,000,000 is on deposit in its savings, commercial and private banks.

Scientists have recently discovered that alcohol rubbed on the head will produce premature gray hair. Laymen discovered long ago that too frequent internal applications will do the same thing.

One of the possible reasons for Taft's popularity is the fact that he has so much "personal magnitude."

If Governor Hughes gets the nomination its pretty near a

Passengers Help Raise Car From Track

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Edward Boland of 809 Grove street, was horribly mangled by being run over by car 639 of the McAllister street line at Powell and Market streets at 1:15 o'clock this morning, and at the Central Emergency hospital, where he was taken it is feared he will lose his life.

The McAllister street car was the last one leaving the ferry and was endeavoring to make up time. By-standers say that it was going at a lively rate of speed when Boland suddenly darted in front of it. The motorman put on both regular and emergency brakes in an effort to stop the car, but the man was hit before he could do so.

The front trucks of the car had passed over the unfortunate man, and as it was feared the wrecking car would be some time in reaching the scene, the motorman and conductor called for volunteers to lift the car by sheer force in order to get out the man's body. Accordingly several police officers, carmen, and about twenty-five citizens, lifted the car from the rails and threw the trucks over to one side of the track. When Boland was at length dragged forth he was unconscious and when taken to the hospital, Dr. Hill found besides numerous lacerations and bruises of the body and several lacerated wounds of the scalp, he had a probable fracture of the skull.

Kentuckians are pointing to Editor Henry Watterson in the Senate. If he is elected we believe that the effect will be similar to that produced by dropping a submarine boat into a dishpan of water.

A news item of recent date says that Bellamy Storer may be honored by the Emperor of Japan. That is the most potent war symptom that has yet appeared.

The man who is responsible for the axiom of "Money Talks" probably had William J. Bryan in mind, for the boy orator has talked himself into a fat bank account.

The New York papers have recently quoted David B. Hill as saying that he is out of politics. Plenty of persons knew this long ago.

GOLD IS STOLEN

RENO, Nev., Feb. 17.—While the driver of a Well-Fargo Express wagon was delivering a package in a store in the business district this morning a thief took a sack containing $5500 in gold and currency from the wagon seat and escaped without detection. The empty sack was later found in an alley.

The police and sheriff's officers and several detectives are working on the case, but so far have no clue.

Cave-in in Mine

POTTSVILLE Pa., Feb. 17.—By a cave-in at the Midway Colliery, a mile and a half north of Mount Carmel, twenty-three miners were imprisoned this afternoon. The cave-in occurred in No. 4 drift of the east side gangway, this morning but was kept quiet by the officials, who wished to keep crowds from rushing to the colliery. Employees of the colliery are working to save in an effort to rescue their comrades.

Snell Will Case
Jury Still Out

CLINTON, Ills., Feb. 17.—After having been out since Saturday evening the jury in the Snell will case had not reached a verdict up to 10 o'clock today. Rumors are broadly current that eleven jurors favor the breaking of the will left by Colonel Thomas Snell on the ground of insanity, but the remaining juror obstinately holds out.

ENSLAW BREAKS BONES AND WALKS TO DOCTOR

JAMES D. Ensaw, an architect, living at 467½ Tenth street, fell down stairs at his home last night, dislocated his right shoulder blade and broke one of his ribs. He made his way alone to the receiving hospital, where Dr. V. H. Rice attended him.

Ensaw was taken to the hospital several weeks after he had been severely beaten about the head at the home of his wife, from whom he is separated. He created a disturbance and was thrown out by other lodgers. Since that time his wife, Mrs. Minna C. Ensaw, has sued him for divorce.

Kansas Celebrated
Her Forty-seventh
Birthday Anniversary

The 47th anniversary of the birth of one of the foremost states in the American union of commonwealths was celebrated in a series of banquets and gatherings which had Topeka for their hub and center. From New York to Los Angeles and from the lakes to the Florida palms the sons and daughters of Kansas assembled themselves together and exalted the glory of the land of the helianthus annuus. And never in the 47 years of her life, have the people of Kansas greater cause for pride than today, when the State enters upon its 47th year. There was never a time when Kansas stood higher in the councils of the nation. There have been individual congressmen and senators who were more brilliant, who got into the limelight of office and more spectacularly, but for conscientious and zealous efforts in behalf of their constituents Kansas has never had a delegation which reflected greater credit upon the state.

During all the years of her history Kansas has had her share of the "aspirations" through which she is to reach the "astra," but as the years pass, the difficulties are becoming less and the stars are becoming brighter. There have been times when the motto was almost a mockery, in view of the conditions which existed, when the trials were so great that they seemed to have knocked the stars from the sky. But through it all the people have struggled on and upward, and they approach the half-century milestone with the same courage and devotion to high ideals with which they faced all the years that went before.

The day has long since passed when Kansas was the scoff of the cynical and the jest of the merry. She is no longer "bleeding Kansas," no longer the state of political freaks. Nobody has to ask what's the matter with her, for if anybody should ask "What's the matter with Kansas?" there would come an answering chorus from one end of the state to the other and from one end of the country to the other: "She's all right!" Here's congratulations and wishing many returns of the day.—Kansas City Journal.

HANBURY DIVORCE
CASE PROMISES
SENSATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Sensational disclosures are expected in the trial of the divorce suit brought in this city by David P. Hanbury, the London brewer, against his wife, who was formerly Marie Eleanor Mansfield of Marin county.

Aside from their romantic marriage which took place in the bride's home in Marin county on May 23, 1906, after a brief courtship at Harbin Springs, unusual interest attaches to the case because several men have been mentioned as co-respondents by the husband.

TEAMSTER SHOTS SELF 4
TIMES WHILE OUT OF MIND

Fights Police on Arrest Though
All Shots Take Effect.

While out of his mind Joseph Gray, a teamster, living at 1812 Eleventh avenue, tried to commit suicide yesterday morning at his home by firing four shots into his neck. Although all four shots took effect it is believed that he will recover. Gray has been confined in an asylum and his mother and brother are also insane. Shortly after midnight he awoke and began to shoot himself. His brother heard the shots and rushed in in time to see him fall to the floor.

He regained consciousness, however, and when the police ambulance came to take him to the Receiving Hospital he fought fiercely with the policemen. It was necessary to handcuff him. At the hospital it was found that two bullets had gone through the fleshy part of his neck, while the others had lodged within him. Dr. Rice attended him.

GRAND JURY PROBES
BANK'S LITERATURE

Publishing of Booms by California Safe Deposit Company Under Investigation.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—The grand jury went into session at 2 o'clock this afternoon and is investigating the publishing of boom literature by the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company for some six or seven months prior to the suspension of the bank.

During that time the bank advertised extensively, and by glowing tales invited depositors. Assistant District Attorney Cook expects ultimately to return some indictments against bank officials on this score.

Most of the girls pulled the coverings over their heads when they heard that a burglar was in the house, but a few curious ones sat up and gave something to listen to the bluesists. "How did you happen to telephone to Headquarters?" Kearns asked the teacher who had sent for the policemen.

"Why, I am sure I heard a man sneeze," she replied.

The two policemen wandered away at once. As they were going down the steps a girl called out:

"Mr. Policeman, there is a bed in the basement that you didn't look under."

The policeman, however, shivering in the cold, did not return to make a second search.

Remembering, however, that all the girls in the family had had that they had been taught to sneeze gently in a handkerchief, the teacher determined that it was a man who had made the discordant noise through the hall and that the man was an intruder. She rushed to the telephone and rang up Police Headquarters, said excitedly:

"There's a burglar in our school. Please send the police at once."

Headquarters communicated with the West 14th street police station, and Sergeant Kearns and five men were sent to the school. When they neared the building Kearns said:

"Now, men, four of you keep a sharp watch on every door of the house. I will see a man run out, call on him to stop. If he does not, do so, shoot."

After the door has taken up positions from which they were able to watch the school the sergeant and one of his men rang the bell. A window on the third floor opened and a woman's voice was heard:

"Who are you?"

"The police ma'am," replied the sergeant.

"The colored caretaker of the building, who had not heard the sneeze but who was awakened by the ringing of the bell, opened the door. He looked frightened when he saw the policemen.

"This is a school for ladies," he told the sergeant. "Haven't you made a mistake?"

"There are burglars here and we've come to get them," replied Kearns. He and the other policemen then searched the building. They found the young women sleeping in the dormitories, and the two men looked under the beds. One of the girls pulled the coverings of their heads when they heard that burglars was in the house, but a curious eyes sat under the coverings and advised the bluecoat. ## GIRL INSISTS ON RIGHT TO DEBATE

ATHACA, N. Y., Feb. 17.—MISS E. Corbin, the girl member of Cornell debating team, to whom the debate at Columbia University, object, declines to say whether she will remain on the team, but she will remain on the team if she was chosen in a fair competition and the judges had an opportunity to select a man.

The debate takes place February 18, and the objections of the members of the Columbia team to her taking part are that they fear the judges will be prejudiced in favor of her because she is a woman.

There are "so-called haters" at Cornell among the students and alumni who are not represented by the team, and they come Columbia's protest as a means of having her removed from the team.

a lawyer, assisting in the case. The court hearing was adjourned to the day they had to do, and Mr. Muscos, after the first survey, hastened to assure the court ladies in appearance and conduct were undoubtedly above reproach.

Madigan, president of the Hoffman House corporation, had marshalled to help support the cause, the Hon. Charles C. and the maître d'hôtel, Murtiz Well. Caddigan is a big man, with a high forehead, a thick nose and hair and mustache. He knew nothing about the case till he saw the pictures in the papers. His wooden features revealed none of the emotions which lay beneath the surface. His memory was particularly treacherous; so it was left to the vivacious maître d'hôtel—Billie— to tell the court what had happened. He was dressed in white to cross swords in veracity with the plaintiff.

Madigan was brief in her account of the visit of herself and Mrs. Graham to the Hoffman Hotel, 30 E. 4th street. The evening was warm and they were in the lobby when the door was suddenly directed to the elevator, received at the top by the check boy, and had produced a man, who began to speak in a loud voice.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Some one in the Benjamin-Deane School for Girls at Fifty-sixth street and Riverside Drive, sneezed at 3 a. m. yesterday. It was a loud, rough, forceful, sneeze that resounded through the hall and awoke Miss Van Schotten, one of the teachers. She had heard her pupils sneeze many times, and she was sure that none of the well-behaved young women of the school ever sneezed that way, even when suffering with grip.

"Who is there?" cried Miss Van Schotten. In reply there came a second great sneeze, and the sound of retreating footsteps down the hall.

That second sneeze decided Miss Van Schotten. She made up her mind that prompt action was necessary.

"Who is there?" she called, when she had a sneeze like that, she ought to visit a physician, the teacher thought. Remembering, however, that all the girls in the school were familiar, had that they been brought to sneeze gently in a hush, Fetchie, the teacher determined that was a man who had made the discordant noise through the hall and that it was an intrusion. She called the telephone number of the police and the telephone rang up Police Headquarters.

"There's a burglar in my school. Please send the police at once,"

Headquarters communicated with the West 42d street police station, and Sergeant Kearns and five men were sent to the school. When they neared the building Kearns said:

"Now, men, four of you keep a sharp watch on every door in the house. When you hear a man run out, call on him by name. If he does not, do so, shout."

After the men he taken up positions from which they were able to watch the soldier sergeant and one of his men rang the bell. A window on the third floor opened and a woman's voice was heard.

"Who are you?"

"The police ma'am," replied the sergeant.

The colored caretaker of the building, who had not heard the sneeze but who was awakened by the ringing of the bell, opened the door. He looked frightened when he saw the policemen.

DR. BROWN TALKS OF MUNICIPAL NEEDS

Congregational Pastor Discusses Affairs From the Ministerial
Point of View.

"Moral Principles in Politics" was the subject of an address delivered last night by the Rev. Dr. Charles R. Brown in the First Congregational Church. He pleaded for truth, justice, clean men in public life and clean measures in politics.

"Officials should show supreme reverence of moral values which are outraged when unclean men and unjust measures are allowed to rule," said Dr. Brown. "We want clean men in public life. The very publicity given to all official action is wholesome. The man in office must stand in the limelight and be looked at. If he does not enjoy that prospect, let him do something else."

"There are one or two men yonder in the City Council whom the right-minded people of this community distrust utterly, and with reason it is for us to get rid of them speedily. There are one or two men connected with our city government here who are similarly distrusted."

"We want clean measures. When a certain action is taken by a City Council, by a Board of Supervisors, by a Legislature, we want the real inwardness of it to be such that the good sense and the intelligence of the community will approve the measure the moment it is fully understood."

"The social meanness of all corrupt political action is what makes it so contemptible. The waste of the public funds in any way, by dishonesty, by the awarding of contracts to some other interest than the public interest, the fostering of institutions which mean increased crime and poverty, all comes back upon the taxpayer, and it comes back upon the poor man in increased rent and added cost of living as well as upon the rich man. The essential social meanness of all such waste by corrupt political methods ought to shame every man who has a spark of decency left out of it."

SAYS NO NATION NEED FEAR CHINA

Editor Ng Poon Chew Believes
Mother Country if Christian
Will Progress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Rev. Ng Poon Chew, the Chinese editor, pouched the idea that China will ever be a menace to any nation except those which enrich themselves by plundering and thieving, and also declared in his address before a mass meeting in the lecture-room of the Young Men's Christian Association, on Geary street, yesterday that his mother-country needs a religion, and needs it badly.

China, said Ng Poon Chew, has no religion. Her young men are growing up atheists. She has tried Confucianism, Buddhism and other "isms," but has found them wanting. The only religion which China finds has stood the test is Christianity. No nation can be successful without religion, and when the gospel of Jesus Christ becomes the gospel of the country, and Christ becomes enthroned in the empire, then war and the rumors of war will disappear from the Eastern sky, and the Chinese race will rise higher and shine brighter than ever.

Sees Future in China.
The speaker said that he looked forward to the time when China would again occupy the position among the powers of the earth that she once held in science, art, literature and might. He gave pride and overconfidence as the causes of China's downfall, but predicted she would outlive all the great Western nations. He believed that the present spirit of rejuvenation throughout China due in great measure to Japan's success in war with Russia.

When Japan, continued the editor, declared war against Russia, and won, China began to think and wonder, and she hasn't got through thinking and wondering yet.

"China has learned the lesson that might makes right. If she had learned that lesson long ago, instead of cringing, she would have fought back, and the Kaiser's gunners would be drinking beer, eating Bologna sausage and Limburger cheese at home, instead of patrolling our waters, while the French would be home doing the dusting and Alphonse act. Instead of emulating Germany at Chin Chow, by trying to grab one of our ports, China is sending her youth, the flower of the country, abroad to be educated. These young men will be heard from in time. China will never be a menace to any nation except the thieving ones and the plunderers. She looks upon the United States as the only nation which has a conscience."

HORSE PLUNGES INTO CAFE AND INJURES SIX PEOPLE

Wrecks Restaurant and Seriously
Hurts an Old Man.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Crashed by an attack of "blind staggers," a street railway horse plunged into Michael Samel's cafe and restaurant on East Houston street yesterday, and before he was caught and shot injured half a dozen people, one possibly fatally. The interior of the place was wrecked and patrons seated at the tables. In the confusion several were knocked down and injured. The most seriously hurt was Aaron Rissner, 70 years old, who was passing from the cafe when the horse charged the storm door. He was knocked to the pavement, seriously bruised and injured internally to such an extent that he was unconscious when taken to Bellevue hospital.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

A good liniment or plaster, or some good home remedy will usually give temporary relief from the pain of Rheumatism, but the disease is more than skin deep and cannot be rubbed away, nor can it be drawn out with a plaster. Such treatment neither prevents nor cures; the excess of acid, which produces Rheumatism, is still in the blood and the disease can never be cured while the circulation remains saturated with this irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The trouble will shift from place to place, settling on the nerves and causing pain and inflammation at every exposure or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. When neglected or improperly treated, Rheumatism becomes chronic and does not depend upon climatic conditions to bring on an attack, but remains a constant, painful trouble. S. S. S. drives out Rheumatism by neutralizing and expelling the excess of acid from the blood. It purifies and invigorates the circulation so that out of an acid-laden stream, constantly depositing uric acid in the muscles, nerves and bones, the entire system is nourished and made healthy by rich, life-giving blood. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired will be sent free to all who write.

PHYSICIAN GRAFTS HIS SKIN TO SON

Gives Boy Anaesthetic and Then
Strips Own Thigh—Operation Successful.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Warren L. Dawbarn, a Princeton student and athlete is recovering from a serious operation at his home there, thanks to the sacrifice of several square inches of skin which his father, Dr. Robert H. M. Dawbarn, made two weeks ago. The young man was operated on some time ago for appendicitis but gangrene set in and before it could be stopped all the skin for a distance around the incision made by the surgeons was gone. The skin did not grow again. Dr. Dawbarn, deciding that skin grafting was necessary, administered an anesthetic to his son and cut the skin in strips from his own thigh and transferred it to the wound on his son's body. The skin grew steadily, and the young man is now almost well. Dr. Dawbarn has not yet told his son of his sacrifices and refuses to discuss the matter further than to say that the operation was a simple one.

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF THE SINKING OF THE MAINE

Tenth Anniversary of Havana Harbor Catastrophe Solemnized in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A memorial service in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the sinking of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor was held at the Orpheum Theater in Brooklyn yesterday. A large audience filled the theater and listened to the addresses given by a member of well-known men, among them Rev. John P. Chadwick, who was chaplain of the Maine when she was blown up, and who had a narrow escape from death. He told again the story of the explosion and of the sinking of the ship, dwelling at length on the heroism shown by officers and men. Rear Admiral Casper Goodrich and many officers and men of the regular navy and army were present.

Ten Teams Are In the Race

L. George Wiley of Syracuse, New York; and Charles Sherwood, of New York City; Charles Holbrook, of Boston and Joseph Balligan, of Montreal; N. M. ## GEN. PIKE'S OLD SCRIPTS FOUND

May Throw Light on Explorations—Have Been Lost Since Capture by Spaniards.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 17.—General Zebulon M. Pike's original manuscripts and papers relative to his explorations in 1806, which were taken from him at Chihuahua, Mexico, after his capture by the Spaniards, have been found by Herbert E. Bolton, a professor in the University of Texas, who has been making extensive researches in the Mexican archives.

News of their discovery has just been conveyed to General William J. Palmer of this city by Dr. Edgar Hewett, director of the American Institute of Archaeology. "The whereabouts of these papers has been unknown ever since their seizure by the Spaniards, and their discovery is one of importance, inasmuch as they are expected to throw light on early American history. It is expected not only to show General Pike's early explorations, but to settle the much-discussed question as to whether General Pike was implicated in the Burr conspiracy."

SWEDEN FEARS WAR WITH RUSSIANS OVER FINLAND

Latter Wants Naval Station on Finnish Shore—Germany Involved.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 17.—The relations between Sweden and Russia are decidedly strained at present. The tension has arisen because Russia insists upon being released from the agreement made when Sweden surrendered Finland that no naval stations or fortifications should be established on the Finnish shores adjacent to Sweden. The part taken by Russia in the Norwegian integrity treaty and her present attitude on the Baltic "closed sea" question, also have greatly irritated Sweden.

War is feared in Sweden, because Russia for some time past has been preparing to establish a naval station on the Western shore of Aland Island, which is twenty-five miles from the Swedish coast and only a few hours by steamer from Stockholm. It is believed in some quarters that Germany will adopt drastic measures against Denmark if the State refuses to join Germany and Russia against Sweden in the efforts to make the Baltic a closed sea.

DR. ATKINS, VETERAN MISSIONARY, IS DEAD

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A special cable to the Daily News from Tokyo says: Dr. John Atkins, the veteran Congregational missionary at Kobe, is dead. He was a minister in Iowa before coming to Japan in 1873.

Rovers Play Buffs Washington's Day

The Saturday soccer players will have the fever of the stage on Washington's Birthday. The league season is almost over and it finds two new teams fighting it out for the championship. The Wanderers are leading with the hard-fighting Buffs of Berkeley a dangerous second. The Albions are too far behind to win the league but they have strengthened the team until it is as good as any in the league at present, and the Oakland boys are now endeavoring to climb as high as possible.

It is this that makes the coming game interesting. If the Buffs win they will have the league championships. If they lose the title will be theirs. As to this the fact that the Albions lost after a desperate struggle in their last game with the Berkeleyans, and it is easily seen that a great contest is to result from their next meeting. The Wanderers are hoping of winning a championship the first year of its organization on the outcome of the game. The other team once beaten is having its last chance to retrieve that defeat.

The game will be a great advertisement to the Saturday League, and coming as it does on a holiday, will give many people who could otherwise attend a chance to see the Saturday men in action.

Gets Fat Salary and Business Interest.

(By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.)

"Brik" Devereaux, the idol of the fans is going to Santa Cruz.

The famous "Red Dog" third baseman of the Oakland club practically admitted this to the writer this morning.

Devereaux will go to Santa Cruz Wednesday.

The Santa Cruz people have made Devereaux such a flattering offer that he has decided to accept the terms and Oakland will be without the services of the most popular player that ever wore an Oakland uniform.

Besides a handsome salary, Devereaux is to be given a half interest in a new business in the San Francisco and management will place property in escrow.
